

2020 TRAINING SESSIONS

LEADERSHIP FOR DIVERSITY INSTITUTE

NCBI's Leadership for Diversity Institute is a three-and-half-day leadership training in diversity, equity, and inclusion. In large group classes, participants learn a replicable set of practical skills; then in small group settings, there is an opportunity to practice the skills with support and encouragement from others.

HOW TO INTEGRATE A POWERFUL SET OF DIVERSITY SKILLS INTO YOUR LEADERSHIP

- Valuing and welcoming similarities and differences among group members and staff
- Examining the misinformation and unconscious bias that impacts our behavior toward others
- Understanding the role identity plays in leadership
- Identifying the harmful effects of oppression on one's own group
- Preventing and interrupting bigoted remarks and behaviors
- Learning how to be an ally to all groups

HOW TO GAIN GREATER SUPPORT FOR YOUR LEADERSHIP ON DIVERSITY ISSUES

- Participants practice how to implement NCBI skills and practices in their own workplace and community settings. Individual coaching is provided in these skills
- Leading effective meetings that include everyone's voice
- Building a team of support for one's own leadership
- Structuring effective, respectful conversations about difference and
- Increasing cultural competency

HOW TO LISTEN TO CONCERNS UNDERNEATH CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES

- Participants learn skills to move hotly contested issues forward and then reframe the conversation in a way that builds bridges.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH NCBI TO BUILD A LOCAL COMMUNITY, CAMPUS OR ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATE TO INSTITUTIONALIZE THE SKILLS.
